

“ang/ing/ong/ung” words

Decodable Sentence Strips

---

The dog began growling when he saw Dee clang the pots together.

---

Greg, is the bird's wing hurt?

---

The sound of the gong made me jump and I almost fell!

---

Bert swung at the ball that was flying his way from the pitcher.

---

Please hang your coat on the high hook so that no one falls.

Troy slings tree leaves down
the hill for work.

---

Fran was telling me the song
you sing is pretty.

---

I am starting to feel my lung breathing hard.

---

Clark and his gang of boys will help Gran with her farming.

---

I will bring the corn to the shrimp boil tonight.

---

Ouch! I was just stung by a bee!

He was talking to me about how you sang at the party yesterday.

---

Do you know if the king has his own bathroom?

---

I sigh when I see the goose is a long way from the house.

---

Did you knock or ring the gong?

---

Have you ever sung that song?

---

Fay lost her ring when she went swimming at the greek pool.

I tie a string to the dog so he will not bark or howl when I run to third base.

---

This morning I walked on the long sidewalk to the beach.

---

Bring in the car so that the hail does not hurt it.

---

My dad swung a bat at the crow that was going to eat his crops.

---

Fling that popcorn in my mouth!

---

When you are done burning the wood, please hang your hat on the wall.