

“ank/ink/onk/unk” words

Decodable Sentence Strips

---

Hank starts shouting at the horse who walks on the new smooth pavement.

---

There are worse drinks to choose from than Dr. Pepper and Coke.

---

The donkey looks sad walking in the grass.

---

The car sunk into the lake when the man forgot to turn on the brakes.

---

Do you think that Vern's mouth hurts after he was hit by the ball?

The paper is blank and has no words on it!

---

The clerk gave me a pen with no ink.

---

All of the cars honking has made my brain hurt.

---

She drank a small bit of her water at snack time.

---

The small girl has a big smile and a lot of spunk!

---

Bart did not want pink pants for his bowling club.

The older boy told the small girl
to walk the plank.

---

I am missing a link in my brand
new jewelry.

---

My mom says I have too much junk!

---

Did the goose honk at the fighting cows?

---

“I drank all the milk last night.”
said Dad.

---

I will sling my bat and ball over my back and walk to the park.

There was a hunk of goose
poop in the road.

---

Did Stan go to the skating rink
on Tuesday?

---

I think Greg forgot to stain the deck
and it is turning black and brown.

---

My fish tank needs
cleaning.

---

Gail swung the leftover junk
into the trash can.

---

Dad took three planks of wood to the backyard.